S/N 1 to 20: Amendments arising from periodic review of the income tax regime

S/N	Proposed Legislative Changes	Brief Description of Proposed Legislative Changes	Proposed Amendment to ITA [Clause in Draft Income Tax (Amendment) Bill 2021]
1	Amend Section 6 to allow persons authorised by IRAS to have access to necessary IRAS records and/or documents for the audit of the administration of public schemes specified in the Ninth Schedule of the ITA.	Beyond tax collection, IRAS supports the Government in disbursing various support grants to enterprises. In administering these disbursements, IRAS may need to work with authorised persons, including non-public servants such as private sector auditors, to perform the necessary audits (e.g. on allotment and disbursement files, IRAS’ IT systems) to ensure accuracy. Currently, it is an offence under Section 6(2) of the ITA for protected information to be disclosed other than for the purposes of the ITA or with the express authority of the President. This proposed amendment will allow IRAS to extend access of legislatively protected data to authorised persons for the audit of the administration of public schemes listed in the Ninth Schedule of the ITA. Safeguards on the scope of persons allowed to access data, data to be accessed, purpose of data access, and confidentiality are included in the proposed amendment to minimise the risk of unauthorised disclosures and misuse of IRAS’ data. The proposed amendment, if approved, will take effect from the date the Amendment Act is published in the Gazette.	Section 6  [Clauses 2 and 52]

2	Provide the tax treatment for cases where trading stock is appropriated for non-trade or capital purposes, and where non-trade or capital asset becomes trading stock.	Singapore's tax system has an income tax but not a capital gains tax. Thus, gains that are of a revenue nature are subject to income tax. Conversely, gains that are of a capital nature are not taxed. Likewise, tax deductions are allowed only for losses of a revenue nature, but not for losses of a capital nature. At times, trading stock held by taxpayers may be appropriated for non-trade or capital purposes. Conversely, non-trade or capital assets may become trading stock. The proposed amendments provide that as and when trading stock is appropriated for non-trade or capital purposes, the market value of the trading stock on the date of appropriation is treated as income that is subject to income tax at that juncture. Conversely, if a non-trade or capital asset becomes a trading stock that is subsequently sold, the proposed amendments provide that the cost of the trading stock is its market value on the date the non-trade or capital asset becomes trading stock. The gains from the disposal of the trading stock are then computed accordingly and subject to income tax.	Sections 10P, 19, 19A and 32A [Clauses 3, 18, 19 and 25]

3	Align the maximum penalty amounts for non-filing and other related offences under the ITA with those for similar offences under the Goods and Services Tax (“GST”) Act and Property Tax Act	This proposed amendment updates the maximum penalty amounts for non-filing and other related offences under Sections 94(2) and 94A of the ITA, and ensures that the penalty amounts across the different tax legislation are broadly consistent. The proposed amendment, if approved, will take effect from the date the Amendment Act is published in the Gazette.	Sections 94 and 94A [Clauses 44 and 45]
4	Include a protection of informers provision	The proposed amendment seeks to protect informers by prohibiting the disclosure of information that may lead to the discovery of an informer’s identity, and to thus encourage informers to step forward with information that will enable more effective tax enforcement. The proposed amendment is similar to the provisions for protection of informers in other domestic legislation such as the Customs Act, the Cybersecurity Act 2018, and the Regulation of Imports and Exports Act. Similar provisions to protect informers will also be included in the other tax legislation such as the GST Act, the Property Tax Act and the Stamp Duties Act.	Section 104A [Clauses 47, and 50 to 55]

5	Count a stillborn sibling in determining the child order for purposes of the Parenthood Tax Rebate (“PTR”) and Working Mother’s Child Relief (“WMCR”), and consequently the amount of PTR and WMCR	The proposed amendment recognises that stillbirths are difficult situations for parents, and accords the said treatment on compassionate grounds. PTR and WMCR will continue not to be allowable in respect of a stillborn child, as these are meant to support parents in bringing up a child. For example, if a couple has a stillbirth, PTR and WMCR will continue not to be allowable in respect of this stillborn child. However, if the couple subsequently has a child, this child will be counted as the couple’s second child (rather than first child) for PTR and WMCR purposes, with this proposed amendment. The proposed amendment, if approved, will take effect for WMCR and PTR claims from YA 2022 onwards, irrespective of whether the stillbirth occurred before 2021 or from 2021.	Section 42A and Fifth Schedule [Clauses 33 and 49]
